

Spotlight on Victims and Offenders: Critical Issues You Can't Afford to Miss

Third in the Series of Trainings for Criminal Justice Professionals

Sponsored by the Anoka County Violence Against Women Training Initiative

Keynote Presentation:

The Forensic Experiential Trauma Interview- A Conversation with the Brain Stem

Russell Strand is Chief of Behavioral Sciences in the Education and Training Division of the U.S. Army Military Police School and a retired U.S. Army CID Federal Special Agent with an excess of 35 year's law enforcement, investigative, and consultation experience.

A proven game changer in the investigation and prosecution of crimes that include child abuse and sexual assault, The Forensic Experiential Trauma Interview will explore revolutionary ways to interview the brainstem in a manner that enhances understanding of the traumatic experience and reduces the inaccuracy of the information provided.

Also Featuring;

- The Criminal Justice System Experience- Survivor Perspective
A Survivor Panel-facilitated by Bree Adams Bill, Program Manager, St. Paul Intervention Project, St. Paul
 - Understanding Men who Batter
Scott Miller, Men's Batterer Intervention Coordinator, Domestic Abuse Intervention Project, Duluth, MN
